RECTOR'S RAMBLINGS

On your mark, get set....

As summer vacations end, as schools re-open, we at St. Timothy's are preparing for the beginning of our fall programs. Choir rehearsal begins next week; Sunday School/Youth Group begin September 9. Our official Kick-Off is Sunday, September 9. It will be quite a day. Bishop Williams will visit us for the 10:30 service; people will renew their commitment to Christ and the Church. Following the service, we will have our traditional Ice Cream Social, (hot dogs, too!) a fundraiser for Episcopal missionaries worldwide. There is a sign up sheet for salads and chips.

On Sunday, September 16, Brad Purdom will visit us again to equip us to invite people to church events and services. Then, at 5:00 pm, we will hold our fall "Back to School" version of Eat, Play, Pray—Bunko. Bring a friend or two!

It has been a busy summer; we have done some important work. Thank you for your whole hearted effort in making us be the best church we can be.

Albert A. Jennings

FROM THE VESTRY (Last meeting on July 26)

1. We considered bids to reseal & restripe the parking lot.
2. We heard that several people would be going to a "safe church" workshop.
3. We approved paying off one of our Diocesan loans. This is possible because of your donations to the New Construction Fund and the Planting for Tomorrow program.
4. We heard that Albert will be assisting with the "Honor the Flag" Ohio Memorial activities on August 3 & 5.
5. We were invited to the second summer Saturday, 5:00pm service at St. Matthew's, Brecksville.

Financial Results for the July 21, 2018, Wine Educational Fundraising Event

The latest Wine Educational Fundraising Event was another success. We had 57 attendees who sampled 5 Bordeaux wines and complementary tasting food portions at Spennato's Restaurant in Northfield. Wines were available for purchase afterwards. The event netted a total of $2,420.01 for St. Timothy's after all expenses. Amongst the attendees were two couples from St. Matthews Episcopal Church in Brecksville with which we have a developing relationship that includes invitations to one another's fundraising and other fellowship events. Thank you to Cyrus Davarpanah and Bill Palmer for their efforts in making this event so enjoyable.

DEACON'S REFLECTIONS

It's unheard of for me to be ahead of a trend, so I was surprised by news I read recently. See, back in June, I was trained by NOVA and started registering people to vote. I'm concerned about those who may be forgotten or removed from the rolls. Registration is tied to your address, but if you're homeless or couch surfing until your next job, your address has changed. If you were evicted because your job doesn't pay enough for rent and food, you're no longer registered. If you're just out of prison and starting over, it's time to register. This is the population who moves often and may not know to re-register. Being in need is not synonymous with ignorance.

As I registered Tom, who uses a wheelchair, he told me he's in a better apartment; Cathy is a new voter; Mike can't remember when he last voted - they all registered.

So, how am I ahead of the trend? I read on ENS this week that Episcopalians are getting involved in voter registration. Georgia parishioners are canvassing their neighborhood in support of a statewide registration drive. The Diocese of Indianapolis hosted voter outreach events and church volunteers are part of an interfaith action to reach those who've never voted. Jesus taught by word and action that he cares deeply for the most vulnerable. Often they're the ones bearing the brunt of unjust laws and they're the ones whose voices must be heard. Join the trend - remind friends and strangers to check their registration status at 443vote.com.
